Interiores únicos en estilo retro

NOËL & MARQUET ofrece soluciones elegantes y sofisticadas para recubrir las paredes con los paneles arc 3d

El diseño retro nunca pasa de moda, y en los últimos años ha experimentado un renacer. Motivos florales, luces cromadas, muebles vintage y colores vibrantes están reemplazando los interiores minimalistas de tonos neutros. Siguiendo y reinterpretando esta tendencia, NOËL & MARQUET, empresa belga especializada en la producción de elementos decorativos para interiores, incluidos paneles 3D, marcos, molduras, zócalos y perfiles para iluminación indirecta, presenta ARC, una propuesta completa y sofisticada para dar una nueva imagen a las paredes del hogar y más.

Tridimensionalidad y color

Los paneles de pared ARC 3D de la marca del grupo NMC están inspirados en los interiores retro-futuristas "Space Age" de los años 70. Con su silueta redondeada y alargada, reinterpretan, de manera contemporánea, el tradicional panelado, aportando carácter y dinamismo a cualquier espacio. Como evoca el nombre, el arco se convierte en un elemento capaz de transmitir suavidad y dulzura estética, fusionándose con colores y acabados personalizables.

Detalles técnicos

Disponibles en dos versiones, ARC S y ARC L, se pueden combinar entre sí para crear composiciones murales únicas y originales. Tamaño estándar: 380 x 14,5 x 950 mm.

Productos listos para usar

Fieles a los clásicos atemporales y al mismo tiempo adaptándose a la evolución de las tendencias, la gama NOËL & MARQUET se enriquece continuamente con nuevas propuestas, desde los diseños más esenciales hasta los más decorativos. Todos los productos de la empresa belga están también diseñados para una instalación rápida y fácil, y listos para pintar, ya que vienen pretratados con imprimación. Gracias a su ligereza, resistencia y facilidad de trabajo, se adaptan fácilmente a cualquier proyecto.

Materiales ligeros y versátiles

Fabricados en poliuretano de alta densidad mediante un proceso industrial con moldes de aluminio, los paneles NOËL & MARQUET permiten crear efectos decorativos de gran impacto. Pueden utilizarse individualmente o combinados para crear composiciones siempre nuevas.

Con un compromiso constante con la innovación, NOËL & MARQUET sigue ofreciendo soluciones sofisticadas, funcionales y altamente personalizables. Cada producto está diseñado para transformar los espacios, creando ambientes que reflejan no solo el gusto, sino también la singularidad de quienes los habitan.

ARC 3D wall panels go back to the future

The ARC panels offer a contemporary take on traditional wainscoting, featuring rounded, elongated silhouettes and customisable colours.

Belgian interior design company Noël & Marquet has launched its ARC 3D wall panels, a retro-inspired collection designed to bring a “space age” aesthetic to modern interiors.

The panels provide an elegant and sophisticated solution for wall coverings, featuring vibrant and personalised designs.

The ARC panels, designed by Bertrand Lejoly, offer a contemporary take on traditional wainscoting, featuring rounded, elongated silhouettes and customisable colours and finishes. The company says the design aims to capitalise on the revival of retro styles, which are seeing a resurgence in popularity, moving away from minimalist, neutral interiors.

The panels provide an elegant and sophisticated solution for wall coverings.

Available in two sizes, ARC S and ARC L, the panels can be combined to create unique wall compositions. Each panel measures 380 x 14.5 x 950 mm.

Noël & Marquet, part of the leading European NMC Group, specialises in decorative interior elements, including 3D panels, frames, skirting boards, and lighting profiles. The company emphasises the panels' ease of installation, noting they are pre-primed and ready for painting.

"The ARC 3D wall panels are inspired by the 'space age' retro-futuristic interiors of the 1970s," a spokesman for the company says. "They reinterpret traditional wainscoting in a contemporary way, adding character and dynamism to any environment."

Made from high-density polyurethane using aluminium moulds, the panels are designed to be lightweight and versatile, allowing for various decorative effects and custom compositions. They can be used individually or combined to create constantly new compositions.

Noël & Marquet, which has over 70 years of experience, offers a range of interior design elements, including cornices, chair rails, and skirting boards and profiles for indirect lighting, allowing designers to create bespoke solutions for clients.

The Noël & Marquet brand is marketed in Arabian Gulf region, particularly in Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and the UAE.

NOËL & MARQUET ha inaugurato il suo primo spazio espositivo indipendente

Alla Milano Design Week, NOËL & MARQUET ha inaugurato Galerie Rouge, il suo primo spazio espositivo indipendente: un'installazione immersiva nel cuore di Brera.

In occasione della Milano Design Week 2025, e per la prima volta in uno spazio proprio al Fuorisalone, l'azienda belga produttrice di elementi decorativi di pregio, NOËL & MARQUET, ha inaugurato un'esclusiva mostra pop-up in collaborazione con il collettivo di design milanese studioutte. Situata nel cuore del Brera Design District, in Via Statuto 12, la Galerie Rouge ha aperto le porte al pubblico per essere scoperta e goduta.

Galerie Rouge

“Concepita come uno “scrigno” multisensoriale, l’installazione invita i visitatori a vivere un’esperienza immersiva che illustra il potere decorativo della collezione NOËL & MARQUET”, spiegano i progettisti di studioutte.

Catturando l’essenza di una gliptoteca classica con un tocco decisamente moderno, il design monocromatico e simmetrico dello spazio concettuale ha immerso i visitatori in un tranquillo e caldo abbraccio bordeaux dove le modanature decorative sono state esposte come sculture intorno a una stanza rivestita da cima a fondo con pannelli a parete.

Un’esplorazione di design unica in cui luce, colore, suono, texture e materiali esaltano i sensi e sfidano i nostri preconcetti sulla decorazione murale contemporanea.

Rivivi questa esposizione unica sui social media e sul sito web di NOËL & MARQUET.

CRAFT, TACTILITY, HISTORY AND WARMTH REIGN IN TODAY'S SURFACES ROUNDUP

From porcelain that emulates stone to a surface that evokes rustic clays, from retro mouldings to tiles inspired by kimonos, today's surfaces roundup features innovators who look to the past as much as they forge forward.

GALLERY ROUGE

Noël & Marquet

Designed by Milan-based collective Studioutte, Noël & Marquet's Galerie Rouge exhibition showcased the versatility of its wall panels. The exhibition took the company's panels and mouldings out of their regular role as background actors, featuring them as the burgundy-drenched stars of the show (cover image). Featured above: an exemplar from the nostalgic space-age Arc Series in its daily habitat.

Design poetico: quando gli oggetti raccontano emozioni

Nel design contemporaneo si respira un vento nuovo, fatto di intimità, narrazione e desiderio di connessione. È il tempo del design poetico, un linguaggio visivo che supera la funzione e scolpisce l'anima dell'oggetto attraverso materiali, forme e atmosfere. Lontano da ogni rigidità tecnica, questa visione mette al centro l'emozione. E mai come oggi, durante una stagione creativa che ha visto nel Fuorisalone 2025 uno dei momenti più significativi, il design si è fatto racconto, gesto umano, eco sensoriale.

NOËL & MARQUET e la loro Galerie Rouge

In questa cornice si inserisce anche la raffinata installazione di NOËL & MARQUET, presentata nel cuore del Brera Design District. La loro Galerie Rouge, curata dal collettivo studioutte, è stata concepita come una glyptothèque contemporanea: uno spazio avvolgente, immerso in tonalità borgogna, dove modanature e pannelli decorativi sono stati elevati a vere e proprie sculture d'interni. Più che un'esposizione, si trattava di una narrazione spaziale, dove i confini tra arte, architettura e decorazione si dissolvono.

La luce morbida, il suono ovattato e i materiali scelti con cura hanno trasformato un progetto tecnico in una esperienza emotiva, silenziosa ma potente. Un chiaro esempio di come anche gli elementi più strutturali possano diventare poesia abitabile.

Design inherently drives consumerism, pushes capitalism forward in one way or another. There are no ifs, ands or buts about it. However, many of the most interesting, innovative voices in the industry are exploring new approaches and new models for creation. The next issue of FRAME Magazine dives into this interior activism, turning over as many stones as we could to find the design that's challenging convention and driving meaningful societal change. One of the standout studios, Madrid-based Hanghar, had a chat with editor-in-chief Floor Kuitert to break down their plan to create more equitable, resilient structures. Find out all about founder Eduardo Mediero's nimble proposition for alternative domestic conventions in today's top post.

Bohemia e “The Essence of Rhythm”

Noël & Marquet presenta “The Essence of Rhythm”, una nuova sorprendente collezione di pannelli murali 3D, tra cui Bohemia

Noël & Marquet presenta “The Essence of Rhythm”, una nuova sorprendente collezione di pannelli murali 3D, tra cui Bohemia. Esplorando motivi sequenziali, texture organiche e forme di paesaggi domestici, questa linea unica riflette il profondo legame del marchio con la sua eredità belga.

Bohemia, un pannello da parete di ispirazione etnica

Prima grande novità Bohemia, un pannello da parete di ispirazione etnica che offre una fresca alternativa ai design lineari. Progettato dal product designer di Anversa Bertrand Lejoly, questo caratteristico rivestimento murale invita a utilizzare toni terrosi e naturali per interni morbidi e rilassanti.

Le forme di Bohemia evocano un forte legame con la natura

Il design singolare e le forme organiche di Bohemia evocano un forte legame con la natura, apportando una texture sottile e morbida ma intrigante alle pareti e conferendo agli ambienti un tocco decorativo unico.

Progettati per trasformare pareti, soffitti e persino mobili in elementi architettonici, i nuovi elementi presentati da Noël & Marquet introducono una nuova prospettiva e nuove possibilità nell'arredamento d'interni. Insieme ai nuovi profili di finitura e ai battiscopa, i pannelli saranno disponibili a partire da maggio 2025.

Prodotto e progettato in Belgio

Orgogliosamente progettato e prodotto in Belgio, Bohemia è una creazione del designer belga Bertrand Lejoly. Avendo collaborato con visionari come Matteo Thun e Vincent Van Duysen, Lejoly porta nel design una sensibilità raffinata, in cui ogni elemento è collegato in modo ponderato al suo ambiente architettonico.

Bohemia è disponibile da maggio 2025 presso i rivenditori e i grossisti Noël & Marquet. Per una panoramica dettagliata del prodotto e per ulteriori ispirazioni, consultare il catalogo "The Essence of Rhythm", scaricabile dal sito web di Noël & Marquet.

NUOVE BOISERIE, LA VESTE INEDITA (E SOSTENIBILE) DEL LEGNO

Le nuove boiserie abbandonano l'immagine classica e austera per aprirsi a un linguaggio più attuale, fatto di ricerca materica, sostenibilità e soluzioni decorative capaci di dialogare con l'architettura contemporanea.

A cura di: Marcella Ottolenghi

Le nuove boiserie stanno vivendo una stagione di successo, abbandonando l'immagine classica e un po' austera, che tradizionalmente le contraddistingueva, a favore di un aspetto molto più contemporaneo. E, soprattutto, di una filosofia maggiormente attenta alle istanze ambientali. Il legno dà vita a inedite superfici decorative, frutto di una ricerca creativa e produttiva rinnovata.

LEGNO, MA NON SOLO: I MATERIALI ALTERNATIVI DELLE NUOVE BOISERIE

Le boiserie contemporanee esplorano anche un universo di materiali alternativi al legno, nel segno della ricerca estetica, della semplicità di manutenzione nel tempo e, in alcuni casi, di una impronta ecologica ancora più leggera.

MDF dalla superficie liscia e compatta, ideale per le laccature e le impiallaccature, pvc e mescole plastiche resistenti all'umidità e prodotte con percentuali di materia riciclata, brillanti metalli lavorati e compositi prestazionali si sostituiscono o si affiancano al legno, ampliando ulteriormente le possibilità decorative.

ARC di Noël & Marquet, azienda belga specializzata in elementi decorativi per gli interni (pannelli 3D, cornici, battiscopa, profili), è una collezione di elementi a parete di poliuretano ad alta densità ispirati agli interni rétro-futuristici in stile space age degli anni Settanta. Disponibili in due versioni (S e L), i pannelli si combinano per creare composizioni originali, pronte da verniciare grazie alla primerizzazione fatta in azienda. Dimensioni standard 38 x 14,5 x 95 cm

Noël & Marquet presenta una nueva colección de paneles de pared The Essence of Rhythm

16-mayo-2025

Inspirada en la belleza natural y la fluidez de la composición musical, Noël & Marquet presenta The Essence of Rhythm, una nueva y llamativa colección de paneles de pared en 3D. Esta colección única, que explora patrones secuenciales, texturas orgánicas y las formas de los paisajes domésticos, refleja la profunda conexión de la marca con su herencia belga.

La primera gran innovación es Bohemia, un panel de pared de inspiración étnica que ofrece una alternativa refrescante a los diseños lineales. Diseñado por Bertrand Lejoly, diseñador de productos afincado en Amberes, este distintivo revestimiento mural invita a utilizar tonos terrosos y naturales para crear interiores suaves y relajantes. El diseño único y las formas orgánicas de Bohemia evocan una fuerte conexión con la naturaleza, aportando una textura sutil y suave pero intrigante a las paredes y dando a las habitaciones un toque decorativo único.

Diseñados para transformar paredes, techos e incluso muebles en elementos arquitectónicos, los nuevos elementos presentados por Noël & Marquet introducen una nueva perspectiva y nuevas posibilidades en el diseño de interiores. Junto con los nuevos perfiles de acabado y rodapiés, los paneles estarán disponibles a partir de mayo de 2025.

A rhythmic, nature-inspired wall panel collection

Noël & Marquet launches "Bohemia"

Belgian interiors innovator Noël & Marquet has unveiled "Bohemia", the latest addition to its acclaimed 3D wall panel collection, The Essence of Rhythm. This new range, inspired by the raw beauty of nature and the fluidity of musical composition, offers a bold and organic alternative to conventional linear wall designs.

Designed by Antwerp-based product designer Bertrand Lejoly, Bohemia channels a strong connection to natural elements through its earthy tones and fluid, organic shapes. Lejoly's design transforms walls, ceilings, and even furniture into dynamic architectural features, infusing interiors with subtle texture and a unique decorative character.

Bohemia's aesthetic is rooted in The Essence of Rhythm collection's exploration of 'sequential patterns, organic textures and the shapes of domestic landscapes,' reflecting Noël & Marquet's deep connection to its Belgian heritage. The collection's name captures the brand's focus on natural flow and movement, marrying visual rhythm with tactile appeal.

Describing the collection, Noël & Marquet notes that Bohemia is 'an ethnically inspired wall panel that offers a fresh alternative to linear designs.' The panels are intended for use in soft, relaxing interiors, where natural tones create a soothing atmosphere while introducing intriguing visual interest.

Bertrand Lejoly, who has collaborated with noted designers such as Matteo Thun and Vincent Van Duysen, brings a refined architectural sensibility to the project. Each panel is 'thoughtfully connected to its architectural environment,' emphasising the importance of harmony between the product and the space it inhabits.

Manufactured in Belgium, Bohemia embodies local craftsmanship and design excellence. The collection is available from May 2025 through Noël & Marquet's network of retailers and wholesalers, alongside new finishing profiles and skirtings to complement the panels.

For interior designers and architects, Bohemia introduces fresh creative possibilities by allowing traditionally flat surfaces to become three-dimensional, textural elements that enrich spatial experience. Its versatility extends beyond walls, offering opportunities for innovative applications in ceilings and furniture.

Noël & Marquet provides a comprehensive overview of Bohemia and inspiration for its use in The Essence of Rhythm catalogue, available for download on the company's website.
